

Privacy Policy

World Green Line is committed to protecting and respecting your privacy. This Privacy Policy explains how we collect, use, disclose, and safeguard your information when you visit our website <https://www.worldgreenline.org/>, use our services, or otherwise interact with us.

We may collect the following types of information:

Cookies are small text files that are placed on your computer or mobile device when you visit a website. They are widely used to make websites work more efficiently and to provide information to the owners of the site.

We use cookies for the following purposes:

Personal Information: Information you provide to us directly, (e.g., your name, email address, phone number, postal address, and other contact details).

Usage Data: Information automatically collected about your interaction with our website, including IP address, browser type, operating system, referring URLs, access times, pages viewed, and click stream data.

Cookies and Tracking Technologies: We use cookies, web beacons, and other tracking technologies to collect information about your browsing activities over time and across different websites.

We use the information we collect for various purposes, including to:

- Provide, operate, and maintain our website and services.
- Communicate with you, including responding to your inquiries and sending you updates, newsletters, and promotional materials.
- Process donations and manage donor information.
- Improve and personalize your experience on our website.
- Conduct research and analysis to support our environmental initiatives.
- Comply with legal obligations and protect our legal rights.
- Monitor and analyze trends, usage, and activities in connection with our services.

We may share your information in the following circumstances:

Service Providers: We may share information with third-party service providers who perform services on our behalf, such as payment processing, data analysis, email delivery, and hosting services.

Legal Requirements: We may disclose your information if required to do so by law or in response to valid requests by public authorities (e.g., a court or a government agency).

Business Transfers: If we are involved in a merger, acquisition, or asset sale, your information may be transferred as part of that transaction.

Data Protection

We implement reasonable security measures to protect your information from unauthorized access, use, disclosure, alteration, or destruction. However, no data transmission over the Internet or electronic storage method is completely secure, so we cannot guarantee absolute security.

Depending on your jurisdiction, you may have the following rights regarding your personal information:

- The right to access the personal information we hold about you.
- The right to request correction or deletion of your personal information.
- The right to object to or restrict the processing of your personal information.
- The right to withdraw consent where processing is based on consent.
- The right to data portability.

To exercise these rights, please contact us at worldgreenline@gmail.com.

Cookies and Tracking Technologies

We use cookies to enhance your experience on our website. You can control the use of cookies through your browser settings. For more information on how we use cookies and how you can manage them, please refer to our Cookie Policy.

Changes to This Privacy Policy

We may update this Privacy Policy from time to time. We will notify you of any changes by posting the new Privacy Policy on our website and updating the effective date at the top of this page. We encourage you to review this Privacy Policy periodically to stay informed about how we are protecting your information.
